The building is a large, light-colored stone structure with a prominent central arched window and a tall, square tower on the right side. CITY OF PHOENIX EMPLOYEE MEMORIAL CEREMONY

There are just about two weeks until this year's City of Phoenix Employee Memorial Ceremony. This annual event honors all the men and women who died while in the service to the community. A ceremony is held inside the Orpheum Theatre before people are invited to walk to the Employee Memorial Wall nearby. There, they can view the names of those we lost etched onto clear bricks. Watch the video below to learn about the wall.

ALL CITY EMPLOYEES ARE INVITED

- Thursday, Feb. 19
- 9 - 10:30 a.m.
- Orpheum Theatre

This year, two names will be added to the wall: retired Phoenix Engineer Frank Contreras and Phoenix Fire Captain Anthony Mock. We invite you to watch tribute videos about each of them now (click on their photos) - and then join us in honoring their memories, along with the other 99 City employees whose names are on the Memorial Wall.

Watch Our Stories & Celebrate History

This Black History Month, the City of Phoenix is sharing stories that highlight leadership, legacy, and community connection across our organization and our City.

Throughout February, watch our City's social channels for the people and places that continue to shape Phoenix's history and future. That includes:

- A closer look at the National Forum for Black Public Administrators (NFBPA), one of the City's employee resource groups dedicated to supporting, empowering, and uplifting Black employees across departments.
- A powerful generational story through a profile of Anthony 'Kerry' Goode, a City of Phoenix employee who is continuing a legacy of public service. His uncle, Calvin Goode, served as a longtime Phoenix City Councilmember and remains a respected figure among Phoenicians. Today, that commitment to service continues through Kerry's own career with the City.
- At Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport, the Ragsdale Terminal was named in honor of a Black aviation leader whose impact helped shape the airport's history. The terminal stands as a lasting reminder of the contributions that continue to move Phoenix forward.

Be on the lookout for these stories on the City's social media channels.
