602 DAY

Grant Park held a 602 Day Celebration Event.

Central City CAO's joined City Council, Phoenix Mercury, and local community members to celebrate 602 Day with a youth basketball clinic.

AZ CARDINALS CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT EVENT

Students at Children First Leadership Academy in Phoenix were given an experience few kids get: a chance to play, learn and connect with Arizona Cardinals players and Phoenix Police officers during a special event hosted on campus.

From friendly football drills and games to the excitement of winning autographed memorabilia, the day delivered moments the students will remember long after the last high-five. Officers and players teamed up to guide activities, answer questions and spend meaningful time with the kids, creating an environment full of energy, encouragement and genuine connection. Lunch was provided by Chick-fil-A, adding to a festive atmosphere across the school grounds.

Phoenix Police's Central City Precinct Community Action Team helped coordinate the event, which brought together community partners to create a positive experience for the rising generation.

"A lot of kids were like, 'Hey, I've never gotten to play football before. I've never seen a player and never talked to a police officer.' So bringing it all together and giving this amazing kids this experience had everyone in smiles," said Phoenix Police Sergeant Lawrence Rosky.

Organizers said the goal was simple: give students a memorable day while strengthening community trust, building lasting connections, sparking inspiration and showing young people that their community is invested in them.

The Phoenix Police Department is committed to supporting programs and partnerships that help uplift youth and create meaningful connections with the community they serve.

COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE

Central City Precinct - Community Action Squad responded to a community complaint regarding an individual experiencing homelessness whose kitten was in need of care. They coordinated with the Office of Homeless Solutions to connect the individual with housing resources and ensured the kitten received appropriate supplies to help safely navigate the summer heat.

TRAVELING SKY HARBOR

Phoenix Sky Harbor is Proud to Welcome and Serve Families and Little Travelers

As America's Friendliest Airport®, Phoenix Sky Harbor is proud to be a family-friendly destination where travelers of every age can enjoy a comfortable and memorable experience, and where even the littlest of travelers can look forward to their journey. Inside the terminals, a variety of shops offer toys, books, snacks, and travel essentials tailored for young travelers.

Phoenix Sky Harbor also supports parents and caregivers with Nursing Rooms available pre- and post-security in each terminal, as well as at the Rental Car Center. These rooms feature comfortable seating, changing areas, and outlets. In addition, several Mamava nursing pods are available in Terminal 4 post-security. Family restrooms throughout the airport provide added privacy and convenience for those traveling with little ones.

The Sensory Room is designed to help children or adults with intellectual or developmental disabilities escape sensory overload. Located pre-security in Terminal 4, it offers a quiet and private space equipped with tables, chairs, puzzles, and books.

Children can enjoy the Play-aviation Park in Terminal 3 near Gate F6, a fun and engaging aviation-themed space ideal for play and exploration.

Young readers will enjoy the PHX Free Little Library in Terminal 3 between Gates F3 and F4, where they can take or leave a book for their flight.

Families with extra time can also explore Phoenix Sky Harbor through self-guided tours or discover even more kid-focused activities on the airport's Activities and Education page.

Families looking for enriching experiences can stop by the Culture Corner. This space hosts monthly cultural activities and performances that highlight the beauty and cultural diversity of Arizona, along with fun interactive learn-and-go activities for travelers of all ages. All activities are free and offer families a meaningful way to discover something new while navigating the airport.

Phoenix Sky Harbor looks forward to welcoming families and helping little travelers enjoy every moment of their journey. For additional information, visit Phoenix Sky Harbor's Tips for Traveling with Children page.
