

Identity Theft Reporting Packet

Information and Instructions

This packet is intended for use after you have contacted the Phoenix Police Department (PPD) and obtained a Case Report Number related to your identity theft incident. If you have not yet filed a police report, you can do so online by visiting: <https://www.phoenix.gov/police>. Click on "File a Police Report" under the "I Want To..." section. Be sure to keep a record of your report number, as it will be required by creditors, financial institutions, and credit bureaus during the resolution process.

My Phoenix Police Department Case Report # is:

This packet is for you to keep and contains important information to help you:

- Correct your credit reports,
- Ensure you are not held responsible for debts resulting from identity theft, and
- Understand how to obtain financial records related to any fraudulent accounts.

It also explains how to submit those records to law enforcement to support a criminal investigation and potential prosecution. Please note: Only submit the Identity Theft Affidavit and supporting documentation—do not include this entire packet. While some victims of identity theft are only interested in correcting their credit and may not wish to pursue prosecution, the Phoenix Police Department (PPD) requests that you only submit the requested documents if you do wish to pursue criminal charges.

Please keep the following in mind:

- In many identity theft cases, it can be difficult to identify and prove who used your personal information. Suspects often obtain this information through the internet or phone and may use false contact details such as fake addresses or phone numbers.
- If a suspect is identified, arrested, and the case proceeds to court, you will most likely be required to appear and testify as the victim.

If no suspect is identified, this will not affect your ability to dispute fraudulent accounts and have them removed from your credit report.

**** Please follow Steps 1 through 5 listed on the following pages. ******

EVIDENCE IS REQUIRED: Without the document evidence requested on pages 3 and 4 of this packet, the PPD cannot begin the investigation.

- If you suspect someone is using your personal information for employment purposes and there is no evidence of other types of identity fraud, refer to the section on contacting the Social Security Administration under "Additional Information" (see page 5). Do not contact the employer directly, as doing so may alert the suspect.
- Under the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act (FACT Act), which amended the Fair Credit Reporting Act, you have the right to obtain copies of all records related to fraudulent accounts. You may also authorize law enforcement to access these records, allowing them to bypass the often-difficult process of obtaining subpoenas for the same information.

HELPFUL HINTS:

- Each creditor has its own policies and procedures for correcting fraudulent accounts, so be sure to ask each one about their specific process.
- Keep a detailed record of all dates, times, and the names of individuals you speak with regarding the identity theft and efforts to correct your credit.
- Always keep copies of everything you provide to creditors.

Step 1: Contact your bank and other credit card issuers.

If the theft involved existing bank accounts (checking or savings accounts as well as credit or debit cards), you should do the following:

- Close all accounts that was used fraudulently or put stop payments on all outstanding checks that might have been written without your knowledge.
- Close all credit card accounts that were used fraudulently.
- Close any account accessible by debit card if it has been accessed fraudulently.
- Open new accounts protected with a new password or personal identification number (PIN)

If the identity theft involved the creation of new bank accounts, you should do the following:

- Call the involved financial institution and notify them of the identity theft.
- They will likely require additional notification in writing (see step 4)

Step 2: Contact the three (3) national credit bureaus.

You should contact the credit bureaus to request a Fraud Alert and/or a Security Freeze on your credit reports:

- A Fraud Alert notifies creditors to take extra steps to verify your identity before extending credit.
- A Security Freeze is the most effective way to help prevent new accounts from being opened in your name. Some of the credit bureaus require a PIN to be designated on your credit file and subsequently, the PIN must then be given for credit to be extended.

Below is the contact information for the three major credit bureaus, including links and phone numbers to place a Fraud Alert and/or Security Freeze on your credit report:

Equifax

Equifax.com/personal/credit-report-services
1-800-685-1111

Experian

experian.com/help
1-888-EXPERIAN
1-888-397-3742

TransUnion

transunion.com/credit-help
1-888-909-8872

Because of the FACT Act, the credit bureaus are required, upon request, to provide one free credit report, per credit bureau agency, per year, with subsequent credit reports available at a nominal fee. Request your free credit reports online at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Step 3: File a report with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Report your identity theft and get a personal recovery plan online at <https://www.identitytheft.gov/> or by calling 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338).

Step 4: Contact the creditors involved in the identity theft.

This step involves contacting all the companies or institutions that provided credit or opened new accounts for the suspect/s and/or where the suspect/s accessed existing accounts. Some examples include, banks, credit card companies, mortgage companies, utility companies, telephone companies, cell phone companies, etc.

You will need to provide the below documents to EACH creditor.

Identity Theft Affidavit - The affidavit requests information regarding you as the victim, how the fraud occurred, any law enforcement actions, and a checklist for documentation you can provide.

If creditors, financial institutions, or collection agencies do not require you to complete their own affidavit, you may use the PPD Identity Theft Affidavit Form 80-601D located at the end of this packet.

Step 4: Contact the creditors involved in the identity theft. (Continued)

Dispute Letter - The dispute letter is used to dispute fraudulent account/s and/or transaction/s and should contain information related to the fraudulent account/s and/or transaction/s, your dispute of the account/s and/or transaction/s, and your request for the information to be corrected. In addition, the letter should:

1. Reference the appropriate FACT Act section.
2. Request copies of any and all records related to the fraudulent accounts to be provided to you.
3. Request all records to be made available to law enforcement.

FACT Act - You should provide a copy of the appropriate FACT Act section with the submission of an identity theft affidavit and dispute letter to the individual creditors.

Sample letters and FACT Act sections can be found on the FTC's website at: <https://www.identitytheft.gov/Sample-Letters>

Step 5: Send a completed and signed PPD Identity Theft Affidavit Form 80-601D* AND copies of all document evidence obtained from the creditors regarding the fraudulent account/s and/or transactions to the PPD.

The Phoenix Police Department uses Axon's Evidence.com to manage all digital evidence. Community members receive a unique, secure link—sent via email or text message—that directs them to a secure portal where they can upload photos, videos, or other relevant documentation such as bank statements, emails, or letters. Investigators access Community Requests through the Department's Axon Evidence.com portal. While recipients can opt out of future reminders using the link in the notification, they can still submit evidence at any time using the original secure link.

To request a secure evidence submission link, send an email to documentcrimes@phoenix.gov with your Phoenix Police Department case report number in the subject line. Do not attach any documentation to the email—all evidence must be submitted through the secure link you will receive in response.

The PPD Identity Theft Affidavit Form 80-601D can be found at the end of this packet and the types of document evidence needed are listed below.

DO YOU DESIRE PROSECUTION?

Only submit the requested documents to the PPD if you desire prosecution and will appear and testify in court should a suspect be identified and arrested (do not submit this packet if you are only interested in the correction of your credit and do not necessarily desire prosecution).

Document Evidence Needed to Begin an Investigation for Prosecution:

To obtain the document evidence listed on the next page, sample Dispute Letters are available from the FTC's website at <https://www.identitytheft.gov/Sample-Letters>.

- Write your PPD Case Report number on copies of all documents you will be sending to the PPD.
- If only a partial account number is listed on the document, please write the entire number on the copy you will be sending to the PPD.
