Human Remains Found in Northwest Phoenix Mountain

(September 9, 2024): The Office of the Medical Examiner is currently processing human remains and working on identification.

Officers were called to an unknown trouble call near 67th Avenue and Happy Valley Road. When officers arrived, they were told by a witness they believed there were human remains on a remote area on a mountain. Several resources were used to locate and direct investigators to the area of the found remains.

The Office of the Medical examiner collected the remains for processing and identification. The investigation awaits the findings of the exam and identification of the remains. The case will remain active.
