Fatal Collision Investigated in North Phoenix

(December 1, 2024) A fatal collision in north Phoenix is being investigated after a passenger car struck and killed a pedestrian Saturday evening.

At about 5:42 p.m., officers responded to a collision in the area of 13000 North Cave Creek Road. When officers got to the scene, they found an adult female pedestrian suffering from serious injuries, she was treated on scene and taken to the hospital where she died as a result of her injuries.

Detectives responded to the scene and took over the investigation. Investigators learned that the woman was crossing Cave Creek Road outside any marked crosswalks when she was struck by a passenger car traveling south on Cave Creek. The driver of the car, an adult male, stayed on scene and did not show any signs of impairment.
