District 1 News & Events:

Domestic Violence Awareness Month – Paint Phoenix Purple

Throughout October, the city of Phoenix will “Paint Phoenix Purple” in observance of National Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Because the city is committed to becoming a national leader in preventing and responding to domestic violence, city departments will help raise awareness about the need to end domestic violence. Some examples include:

- Installing purple lights on Tovrea Castle at Carraro Heights
- Turning the lights purple at the top of Phoenix City Hall
- Making the lighting crystals purple on Third Street between Washington and Monroe streets at the Convention Center
- Installing purple lights on trees along Washington Street in downtown Phoenix
- Installing ‘Paint Phoenix Purple’ posters on city of Phoenix garbage trucks
- Placing ‘Paint Phoenix Purple’ magnets on some city vehicles

Residents also can show their support for the second annual campaign with displays of purple. People can install a purple light bulb on their porch, wear purple clothing on Fridays, tie a purple ribbon on their car antennas, etc. Displaying purple throughout the community sends a strong message that there is no place for domestic violence in the workplace, homes, neighborhoods or schools.

For Businesses

Online Resources for Employers

Workplaces Respond to Domestic & Sexual Violence offers a wide array of online tools for the employer, including:

- Create a Policy – use this online tool to create a workplace policy by inputting answers to a series of questions and choosing model language based on the law in your state or locality (if applicable). The policy you create can be downloaded and saved to your computer at the end of the 20-minute process.
- Training Video for Supervisors – view a brief video, based on real-world experiences, demonstrating practical responses by supervisors working with employees who experience violence.
• Protection Order Guide for Employees – download this overview of the process and information about how protection orders might affect the workplace.
• Guide for Supervisors – review this guide to effective workplace responses to domestic and sexual violence, stalking and dating violence in the workplace.
• Interactive Training Exercises – exercises enabling supervisors to practice responding to a virtual employee’s experience of domestic violence, an employee’s sexual assault and a male employee’s experience of sexual violence.

For more information about the Paint Phoenix Purple campaign, visit http://paintphoenixpurple.org/. If you or someone you know is in need of victim services, call the city’s Family Advocacy Center at 602-534-2120 or the National Domestic Violence Hotline at 1-800-799-7233.

SHOP WITH A COP

The holiday season is just around the corner. The Phoenix Police Department is partnering with Target Stores to pair deserving students from local schools with police officers, one on one, from each of our city's 8 precincts to shop for holiday gifts for family member and for personal items of clothing for the student themselves. Cactus Park Community Alliance would like to present you with an opportunity to help with this endeavor. Although some funding is provided by Target Stores for this event, the officers could sure use your help.

If you would care to sponsor a child for this event you may do so by:

1. Make a secure tax deductible charitable donation to Phoenix Law Enforcement Association (PLEA) Charities at azplea.com. Indicate that your donation is for Shop With a Cop.

2. Donations will also be accepted at the D1 breakfast on October 31st, at the Deer Valley Airport.

Thank you for considering becoming a community partner in "Shop with a Cop". This event goes far to foster positive relationships between youngsters and police officers.

GET YOUR TICKETS FOR THE 6TH ANNUAL PIONEER HARVEST BALL

On Saturday, October 25, 2014, at 6 pm at Turf Paradise, I am hosting the Pioneer Harvest Ball to raise funds for the Pioneer Living History Village. A regular destination for over 35,000 school children each year, Pioneer Village features over 90 acres of historically accurate reproductions of an 1800s-era Territorial Arizona town. The Pioneer Living History Village has operated on a not-for-profit basis since its opening in 1969. Generous support from businesses and community members is needed to restore existing buildings and erect new buildings to house major historical donations. Tickets for the Harvest Ball are $100 (at least 65% of which is tax deductible). The event includes dinner, live music and a silent auction. Please join us. Your support is greatly needed and appreciated. Please call my office for information regarding tickets at 602-262-7444 or email us at council.district.1@phoenix.gov.

TAKING THE FEAR OUT OF HALLOWEEN FOR YOUNG KIDS

Halloween can be a fun time of year, but for infants, toddlers and preschoolers – who often can't distinguish between fantasy and reality – scary experiences can ruin the holiday and create long-term fears. Below are tips for minimizing anxiety and helping young kids enjoy Halloween.

Teach kids the difference between real and imaginary. One way to do this is to connect to something kids already do – like playing dress-up or pretend. Talk with your child leading up to Halloween about how people will be dressed up and how some costumes – while scary – aren’t real.

Choose costumes and decorations carefully. Something may be cute or funny to us, but uncomfortable, scary or downright dangerous to young kids. Consider how long your child will wear a costume. Avoid masks, which can be scary and restrict vision; try face-painting instead. If your child is old enough, let her help choose a costume.

Practice for trick-or-treating. This is more than just what to say to get candy. Talk about holding hands when crossing the street and going only to well-lit homes. Remind kids that some people will be strangers, but that you will be with them the entire time.

On the big night. Go trick-or-treating early in the evening. Stay with your children always. If your child is fearful, don’t tell them to not be afraid. This invalidates their concerns and may prevent them from expressing anxieties later on. Remind them that you are there to protect them.
Choose treats wisely. Hard candies, gummy snacks and caramels get stuck in tiny teeth and can cause tooth decay. The best selection of treats is plain chocolate, which melts easily. In addition, look out for very small treats or toys with small parts, which can be choking hazards.

Make holiday learning fun. Engage your child in family traditions, like baking seasonal favorites or carving pumpkins. Read books about Halloween. Talk about your past Halloweens and ask kids to share what they like about the holiday.

By following these simple tips, we can make this time of year fun for the entire family, especially those new to Halloween.

G.A.I.N.

I just want to say thank you to all of the Neighborhood Organizations that held, or participated in this year’s G.A.I.N. events! Many of these events were larger and more people participated than ever before. Thank you all for helping to keep your neighborhoods, the District and the City safer and making Phoenix a great place to call home.

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY AT INTERSECTIONS AND JAYWALKING
(RECOMMENDATION TO AMEND CITY CODE 36-128)

The Public Safety and Veterans Subcommittee recommend City Council approved, for emergency action (during the November 5th City Council Formal meeting), an amendment to City Code Section 36-128 that adds language prohibiting pedestrians from stopping or remaining in a traffic island or median except to wait to cross the roadway. Staff also recommended that language be added to this code section making violations a civil traffic offense currently resulting in a sanction of $250, and subsequent violations a Class 1 misdemeanor.
Staff recommended adding the following language to Section 36-128:
“No pedestrian may stop or remain in the portion of the roadway designed for vehicular use or in a painted or raised traffic island or median not designated for use by pedestrians except to wait to cross the roadway at the next pedestrian signal or, in the absence of a pedestrian signal, when traffic has cleared or yielded.”

WATER RESOURCES DROUGHT UPDATE

To assure the quality of life for residents and opportunities for economic development, the City of Phoenix must focus on the long-term resiliency of the Colorado River system. Investing in resiliency efforts will help provide insurance against rare water supply shortage events that may be outside normal expectations. An added benefit of these “insurance policies” is that they send a signal to business, real estate, tourism, and investment communities that the City not only has enough water, but that the water resources it has are resilient.

During the October 21, 2014 Policy Session, staff recommended the establishment of a “Colorado River Resiliency” section in the Water Capital Improvement Program to be funded at approximately $5.5 million on average per year to fund projects focused on water supply resiliency, and requests the City Council support enhanced aquifer management policies that protect groundwater and water stored underground through: (1) creation of incentives to recharge in the same hydrologic sub-basin in which recovery will occur; (2) creation of disincentives for recovering in a different sub-basin from which the corresponding recharge occurs and, (3) protection of water stored underground from being pumped by an entity that didn’t store it. No specific projects have been approved as of yet.

CITY MANAGER’S WEEKLY REPORT

LEGISLATIVE

The Office of Government Relations and the Federal Lobbying Team organized a number of meetings in Washington, D.C. for public safety leadership from the cities of Phoenix, Mesa and Glendale. A total of 11 meetings were held on October 8 and 9 and included the offices of the Arizona congressional delegation, key committee staff and officials from the Department of Homeland Security. The purpose of the meetings was to advocate for the Phoenix area’s Urban Areas Security Initiative (UASI) ranking and funding.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT & EDUCATION

On October 3, 2014, representatives from the Super Bowl Host Committee, Downtown Phoenix Partnership and CEDD began meeting with downtown restaurants and businesses within the proposed Super Bowl Central footprint. The purpose of the meetings is to update restaurant managers on the potential Super Bowl Central activities, answer any questions or concerns they may have, and discuss collaboration opportunities between the restaurants and Host Committee. These meetings with individual restaurant and business owners will run throughout the month of October. A larger downtown restaurants and businesses forum meeting is scheduled for later in the month.

On October 9, 2014, CEDD staff and Portland Place Partners, LLC closed on a 1.9 acre lot in the Roosevelt district, to develop the second phase of the Portland on the Park multifamily residential condominiums, located north of Portland St. between 1st and 3rd avenues. This 14-story development will contain 170 privately-owned units, and will activate the ground floor with more than 7,000 square feet of commercial and retail space. Construction of the project will begin by the end of the year.

PUBLIC SAFETY

On October 10, the Family Advocacy Center Director, staff from the City Prosecutor's Office, and staff from the Domestic Violence Unit participated in a Summit for Rio Salado students. More than 120 students participated in the three-part presentation and follow-up question and answer sessions, learning about the dynamics of domestic violence, how the police department prioritizes investigations and how the students can impact cultural change.

NEIGHBORHOODS AND LIVABILITY

On Saturday, October 11, approximately 150 children and adults attended the 5th anniversary celebration at Agave Library (23550 N. 36th Ave.). Everyone participated in a Discovery Time program and literacy stations. Families who completed all five stations made a button and five-hand sugar cookie to take home.

The October 11 Support Sky Harbor Coalition clean up and tree planting in the Bumble Heights and Sunbeam neighborhoods brought out more than 400 volunteers, who removed items in alleyways due to illegal dumping, overgrown vegetation and graffiti. Fifteen different types of fruit trees were also planted at Crockett Elementary School. The trees will be available to residents living in the area to help in providing fresh fruit. The idea for the food forest comes out of work done through Reinvent PHX that highlighted residents’ lack of access to fresh fruits and vegetables. NSD staff and Arizona State University students worked with the Balsz School District and Crockett Elementary School students to develop the concept for the community orchard.

INFRASTRUCTURE

The Aviation Department facilitated a community outreach meeting at which the Federal Aviation Administration discussed recent changes in departure procedures from Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport and collected information from community members. The community meeting was held on Thursday, October 16 at 6:00 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

Street Transportation staff has been working to obtain approval from the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) to site future Bike Share stations at transit facilities. On October 2, the City received a incidental use approval from the FTA Regional IX Office in San Francisco for Bike Share station placement at transit passenger facilities within the cities of Phoenix, Tempe and Mesa.

At the request of the Regional Public Transportation Authority (RPTA), Public Transit staff is coordinating with representatives of the Aviation Department to allow East Valley and Northwest Valley Dial-a-Ride services to access the designated dial-a-ride stops at the Sky Harbor Airport. Currently only Phoenix Dial-a-Ride is allowed to access the airport to pick up and drop off passengers. Aviation Department staff provided conditions that RPTA would have to abide by before considering the request.
Street Transportation staff will attend a panel discussion entitled “Canalscape: What it means to the Private Sector” on October 22 from 8:30-9:30 a.m. at Brophy College Preparatory High School, Black Box Theater, 4701 North Central Avenue. Staff will attend this panel discussion to provide background and answer questions on the Grand Canalscape project.

SUSTAINABILITY

Public Works recently received approximately $18,000 in rebates from APS for a recently completed project with the Parks & Recreation Department. The project consisted of the replacement of a 17-year old, 300-ton chiller at the Arizona Science Center with a new, high efficiency chiller. The new chiller will consume approximately 20% less energy and provide a much more reliable source of chilled water for air conditioning.

Public Works staff converted the High Intensity Discharge (HID) lighting at the water basins to Light Emitting Diode (LED). This new lighting provides comparable illumination and provides for 75 percent energy savings. Forty-one 400-watt fixtures and 8 1,000-watt fixtures were replaced with a combination of 78 and 150 watt fixtures respectively. This lighting will result in nearly $10,000 in annual savings in utility costs.

TECHNOLOGY

The Law Department assisted with the execution of 12 agreements with Verizon for cellular antenna sites in the right of way that will provide improved support for Super Bowl festivities. Together these 12 sites will generate a 10-year revenue stream that will be over $40,000 this year, and will increase by 3% each year afterward. Verizon has also initiated the permitting process for several more sites, and said it wants at least 200 sites. Negotiations with other carriers for right-of-way agreements have not yet reached this stage, but are forthcoming.

The Water Department implemented the paperless billing solicitation into the call script for the Customer Service Representatives that take payments when the customer is providing an email address to send the payment confirmation to. This new script will serve to offer paperless billing to all customers that provide an e-mail address during the payment confirmation process.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Every day there are success stories in the District that speak to the kindness of the people who live here. These small victories help bond our communities and demonstrate that great things can be done with the right people; despite limited resources in many cases. One such story is especially noteworthy and is an example of how it is possible to connect people, organizations and creativity with hard work and motivation in order to resolve difficult issues in our neighborhoods.

A resident in our District struggled with the maintenance of her large property and the animals living on it. There was large and growing concern from the neighborhood about the animals and the general condition of the property. As I am sure you know, the Phoenix Police Department has specially trained officers that address animal calls and a request was made to look into the conditions. Detective Jemima Schmidt was assigned to this case and this is part of what she recently communicated to me:

“I wanted to give an update on this case. After learning about the circumstances surrounding this property I reached out to a number of contacts to see if any assistance could be provided. I wanted to see if we could facilitate [the owner] in reducing the number of animals on the property and I am still in contact with a number of organizations/rescues seeking no kill homes for some of the sheep population. The other issue at hand was the state of the property which has become a complaint of the neighbors in the area. The owner as you well know is elderly and she is dealing with the grief and efforts needed to care for her [family].

The Emergency Animal Clinic staff responded to my inquiry for help with an overwhelming response. Specifically, the Glendale location manager Becky Stewart and her staff began working with the property owner by performing landscaping, trash removal, organization and general cleanup. The EAC volunteers headed up by Becky Stewart also picked up the two dead animals off the property and made sure they were properly disposed of.”

These efforts helped the property owner, the animals living there and most importantly, resolved a long lasting neighborhood issue. With hard work on the part of very caring people, the neighborhood itself has been repaired and is a more enjoyable place to live.

We are planning to officially recognize the efforts of those who helped with this project and a place and time are still being worked on.
Healthy Children

Healthy children = ready to learn, ready to succeed.

What happens to a child, both before and after birth, impacts that child’s chances for success later in life. While some factors that lead to poor health can’t be controlled, others can. A healthy pregnancy leading to a healthy birth sets the stage for a healthy childhood. Practicing healthy behaviors such as mothers receiving early prenatal care, well baby checkups, on time immunizations and periodic sensory, developmental and oral health screenings are all things that can be done to improve a child’s chances of entering school healthy and ready to learn. When potential health problems or developmental delays are identified early, the chances of successful intervention and treatment are greater.

We are all partners in assuring that babies and young children receive the preventative and routine health care that they need.
