Dead Body Found on Railroad Tracks

(August 17, 2024): Detectives are working to identify the remains of an adult male found by railroad staff as the scene is not consistent with a railroad collision.

Officers were called to an accident with injuries call involving a train near 20th Street and Jackson Street. When officers arrived, they found a deceased male lying on the railroad tracks. Detectives were called to investigate.

After a preliminary investigation, it does not appear the victim was involved in a collision with a train. The victim's remains were collected by the Office of the Medical Examiner. The investigation awaits the findings from the Medical Examiner's report.

If anyone has information regarding this incident, they are encouraged to call Phoenix police or Silent Witness if they wish to remain anonymous.
