Toddler Dies After Collision with SUV

(April 7, 2024): Phoenix police is investigating a fatal traffic collision between a one-year-old male and an SUV.

Just after 3:00 p.m. officers were called to a serious vehicle collision near 4500 East Broadway Road. When officers arrived, they found a toddler receiving medical aid from his family. Witnesses told the officers the child was ran over by an SUV. Officers tended to the child until the fire department arrived. The child, one-year-old Legend Hayes, was rushed to the hospital where he died from his injuries.

Officers secured the scene until detectives arrived to take over the investigation. Detectives later learned a family member of Hayes decided to move the vehicle, after the family arrived from an errand, and collided with Hayes while on the property. The driver had previously seen Hayes inside the residence before moving the vehicle.

No arrests have been made as the incident remains under investigation. Services have been provided to both the family and officers involved in this incident.
