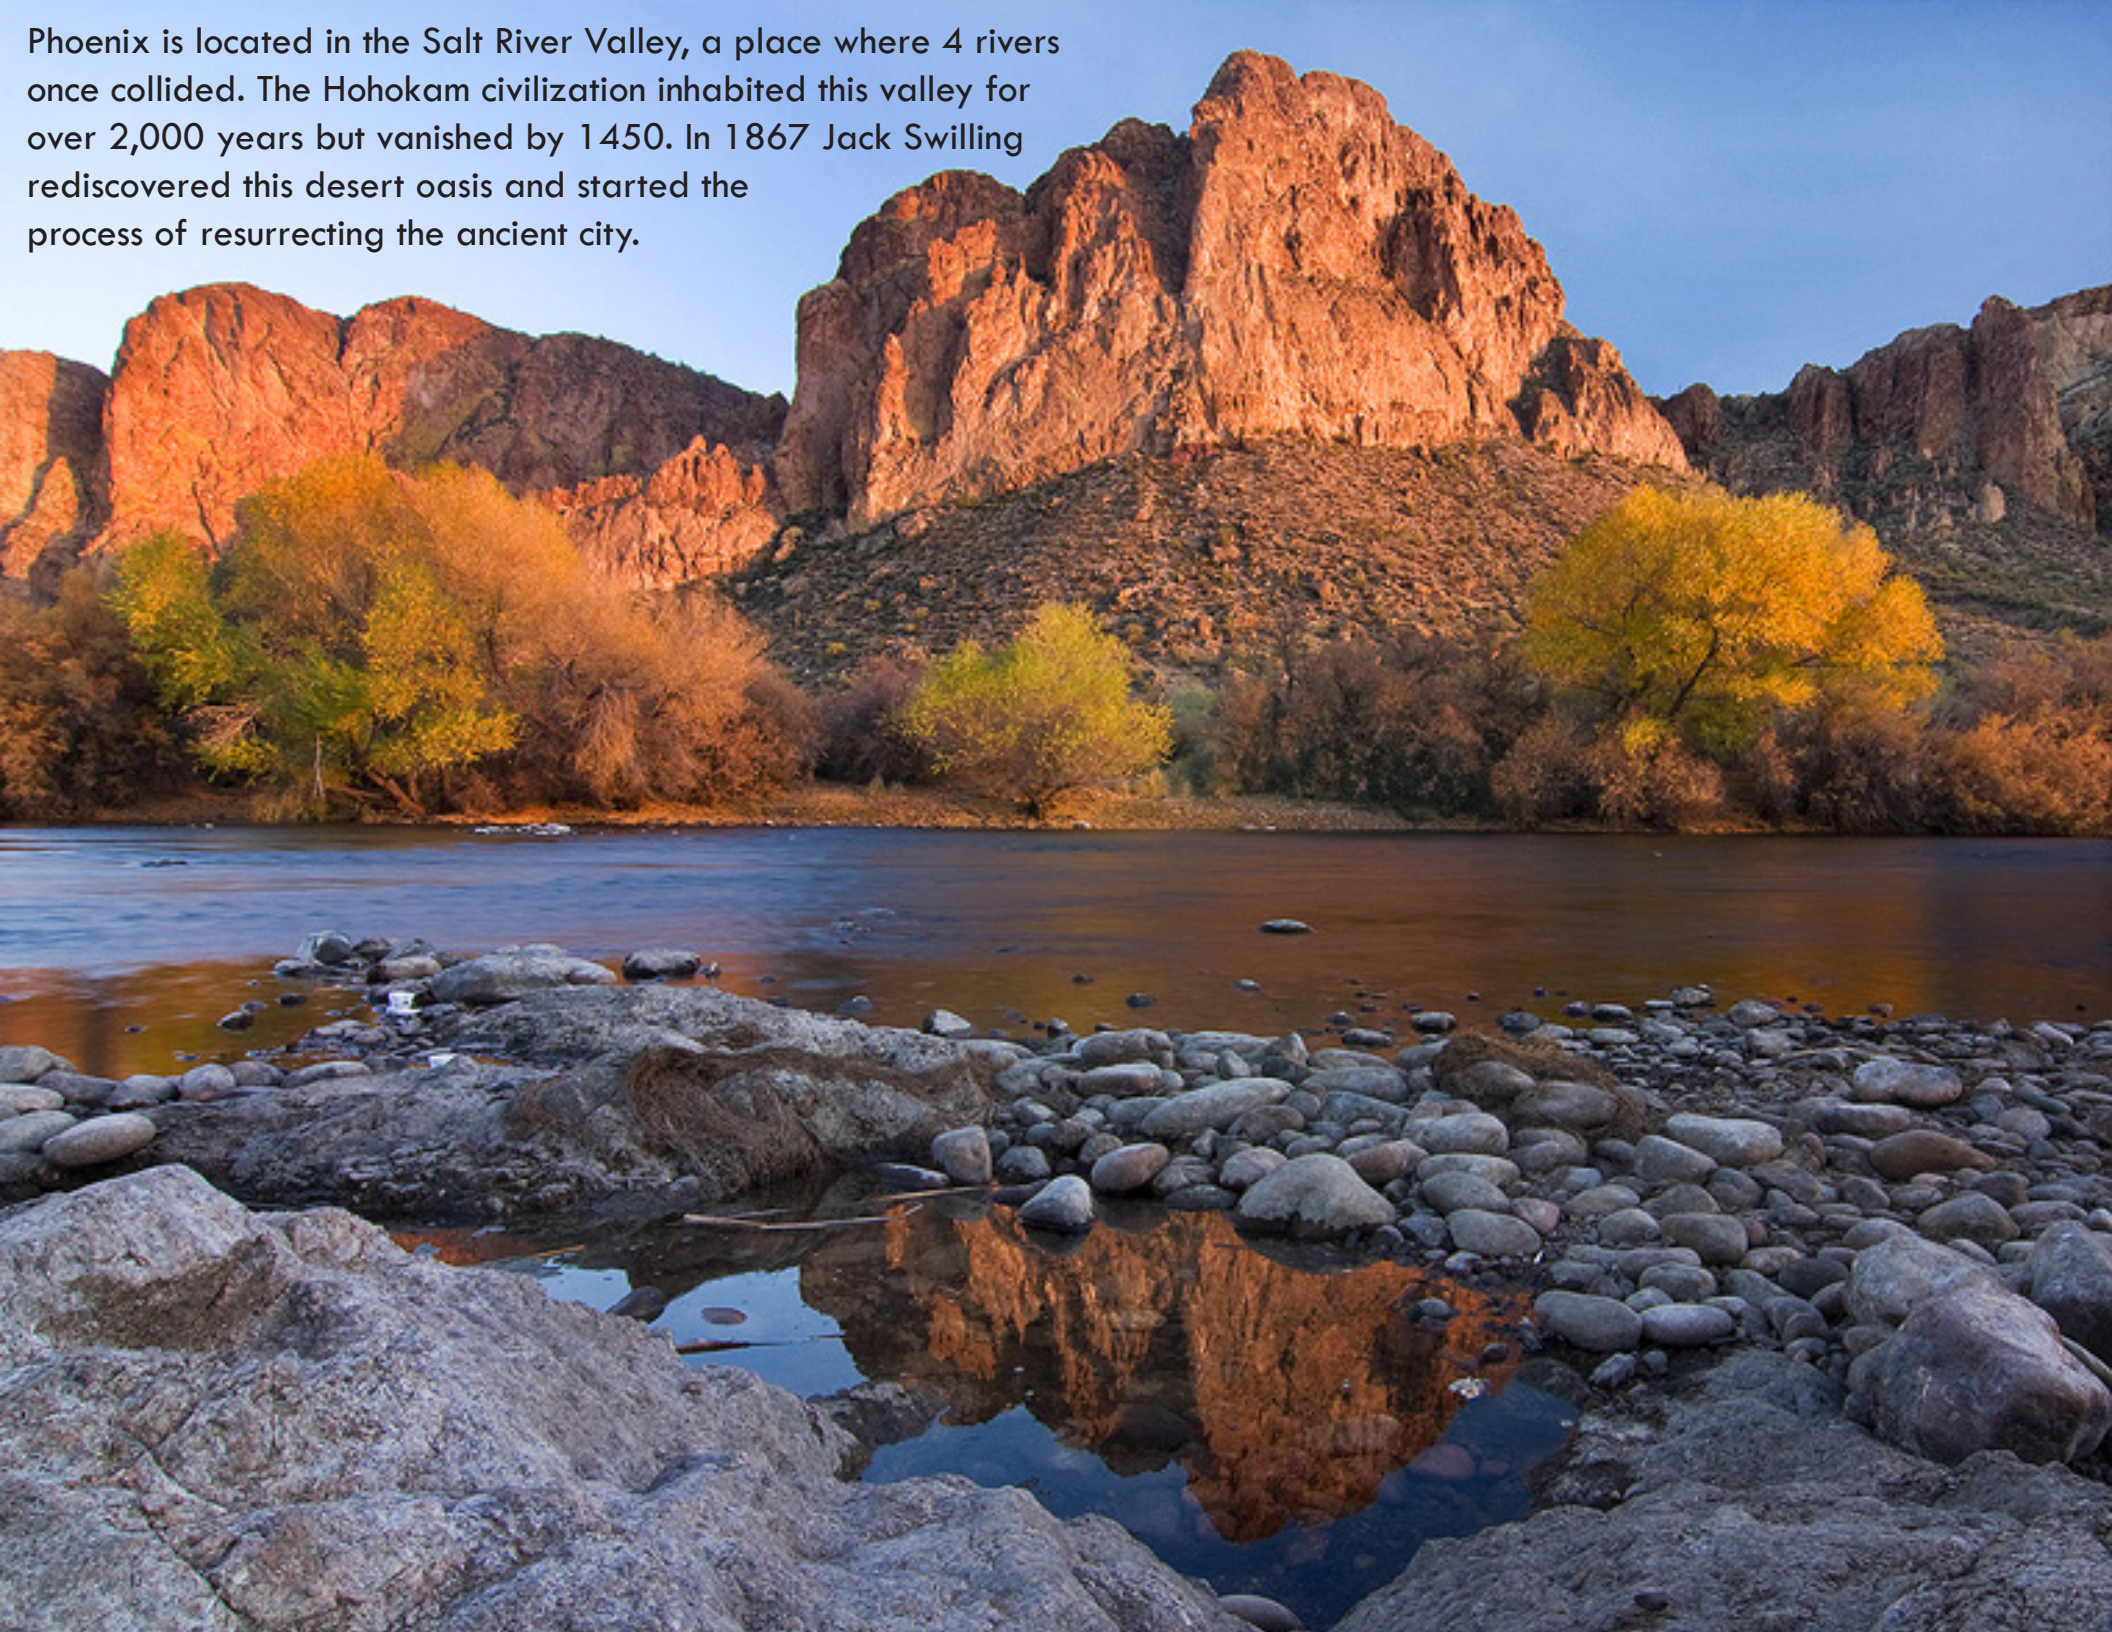
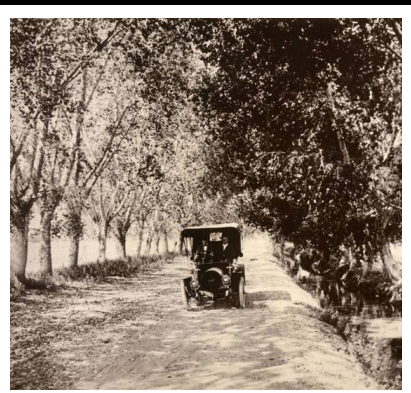
Reinventing

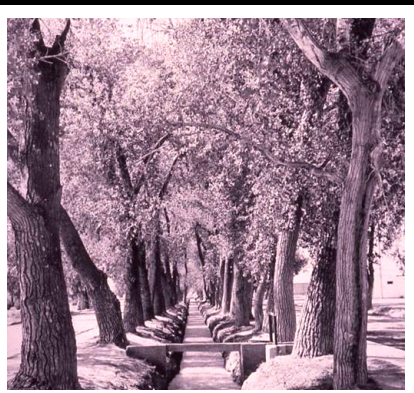
One Tree at a Time

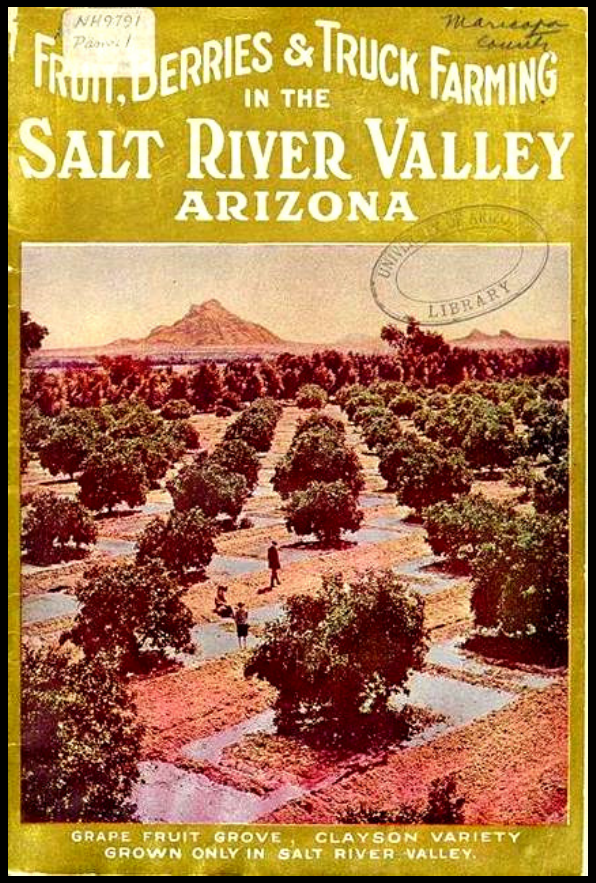
Lysistrata "Lyssa" Hall

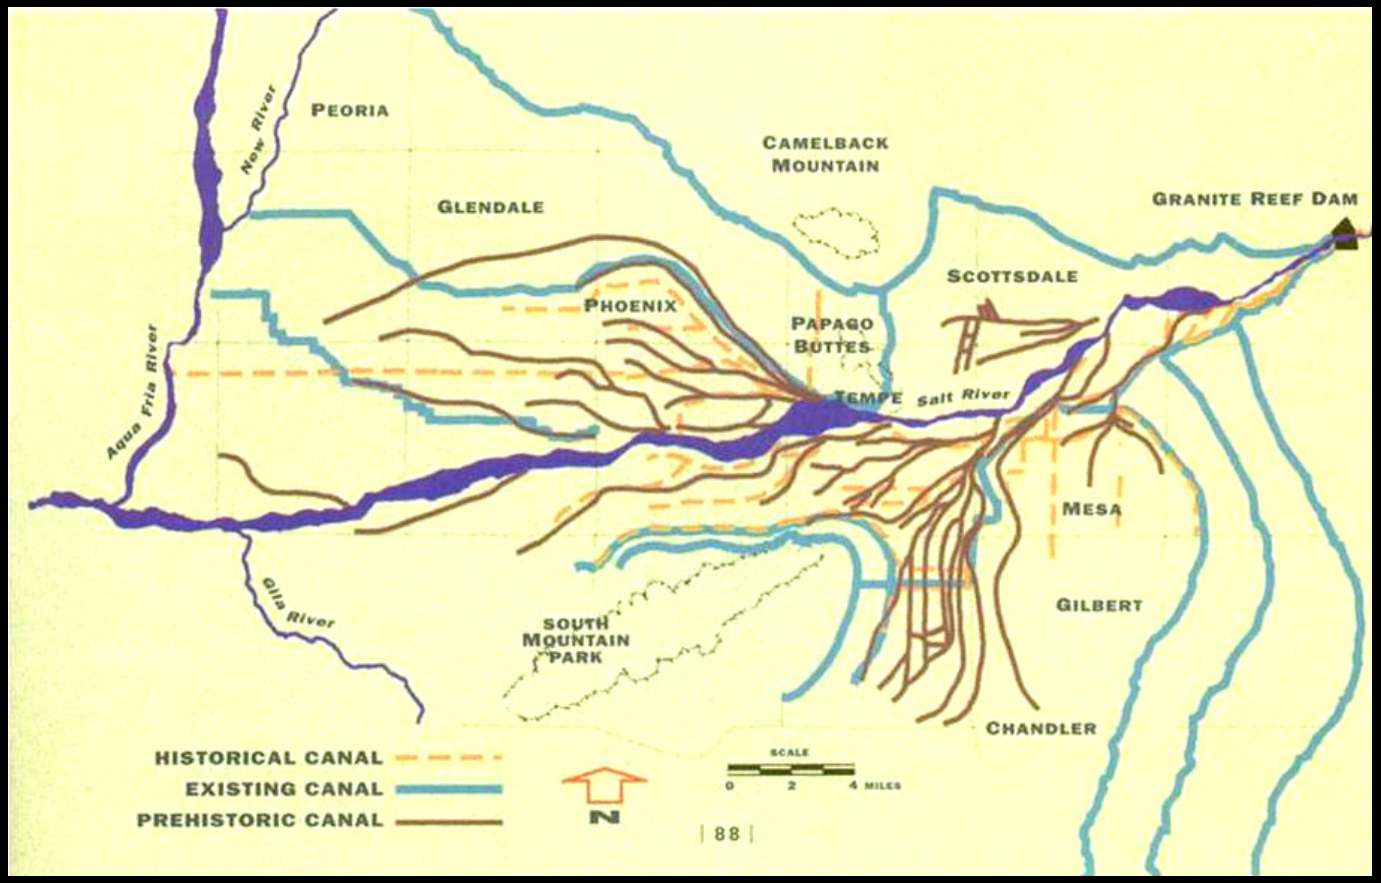


Phoenix is located in the Salt River Valley, a place where 4 rivers once collided. The Hohokam civilization inhabited this valley for over 2,000 years but vanished by 1450. In 1867 Jack Swilling rediscovered this desert oasis and started the process of resurrecting the ancient city.









Phoenix, AZ
The City of Gardens & Trees

In 1902 the National Reclamation Act was signed and the rivers were damned. The City of Gardens and Trees was born. Phoenix became a place where canals and massive trees lined the streets.

Community Built & Maintained

relax

GET EXCITED AND MAKE THINGS

play learn

REINVENTPHX