City of Phoenix Parks and Recreation Department: Park Steward Highlight

The City of Phoenix park steward program connects citizens and park users with an opportunity to help maintain the preservation of the mountain parks. Our success is due to the passion and hard work of our volunteers and their willingness to take time out of their day to educate, promote and lead by example the conservation efforts that meet with the city's mission. Almost every task performed by the Park Rangers is also accomplished by the Park Stewards whether its trail work, park clean-ups, trail head meet and greet, or community outreach events park stewards maintain a high level of proficiency and professionalism in everything they do.
