OUR MISSION

City of Phoenix Water Services Department has a mission to teach students of all ages about water science and conservation and help create the water stewards of tomorrow. We offer free in-classroom presentations tailored for grade levels and time limits. We cover a wide variety of topics including our Phoenix water sources, Arizona water history, water and wastewater treatment or a visit from Wayne Drop for younger students. Email us at conservation@phoenix.gov to schedule a presentation.

Teachers in Phoenix schools can also order free classroom resources that cover the water cycle, water resources, water conservation and water ecosystems for specific grades. Visit phoenix.gov/water to place an order for free materials and delivery.
