COUNCILWOMAN THELDA WILLIAMS STATEMENT ON 2020 CENSUS: UPDATE SINCE CENSUS DAY

It has been one month since we marked 2020 Census Day and the return rates show that as of April 30, 54.1 percent of households in Phoenix had responded to the census, which is slightly higher than the statewide response rate of 52.6 percent, but still lower than the national average of 55.6 percent.

In Phoenix, the highest response rate of April 30 has been in the Ahwatukee area with 78.7 percent of households filling out the survey and most of the outlying and rural areas have demonstrated a higher return rate.

There are three ways to respond: iCount2020.info; 1-844-330-2020 English, 1-844-468-2020 Spanish; or by mail.

As required by the United States Constitution, the federal government conducts a census every 10 years. Census data is used to distribute funding and determine elected representation. Businesses, nonprofits and governments all use census data to identify community needs, project growth and plan for development. A complete and accurate count is imperative.

There is a lot at stake for Phoenix in the 2020 Census. The information the Census collects determines how more than $675 billion of federal funding is distributed each year for community services over the next 10 years. In Phoenix, the census represents about $866 million annually. These vital funds are used for programs and services including libraries, transportation, education, public health, Head Start, senior services, housing, arts and culture and more.

If you haven't done so already, please respond and be counted now. For more information visit, <http://icount2020.info/>.

PHOENIX DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS CAMPAIGN

The City of Phoenix Family Advocacy Center, the Phoenix Police Department and the Arizona Coalition to End Sexual and Domestic Violence are teaming up to spread a message of hope and help for those facing dangerous situations at home during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Domestic Violence Help! is a community initiative launching today designed to share hotline and website information so victims of domestic abuse can move forward as survivors. Police has invited local radio stations, TV stations and billboard companies to join with us in spreading this important public service message. The Phoenix Newsroom will have sharable stories of survivors along with expert advice for people who need help or know someone who needs help.

Why this message right now in the middle of a world-wide pandemic? Domestic violence calls are on the rise. In the month of March, calls for service were up more than 5% year-over-year. The first two weeks of April, that number jumped to 15%.

While the causes of domestic violence are as varied as the individuals involved, we know the following risk factors are increasing due to COVID19:

- Stay at home orders and social isolation could put potential abusers closer to their victims
- Victims may not have access to the same network of support systems through family and friends
- Economic fears could add increased stress on both the abuser and their potential victim.
- Domestic abuse is about power and control. Abuser may use COVID19 fears to exercise control over their victims
- Victims may worry that shelters or other resources aren't available because of COVID closures—that's not true. Help is available whenever you need it.

The following resources are available:

- The Family Advocacy Center: 602-534-2120
- Find resources at <https://www.phoenix.gov/police/domesticviolence>
- National Domestic Violence Hotline: 800-799-SAFE (7233)
- Arizona Coalition to End Sexual & Domestic Violence: <https://www.acesdv.org/>
- Remember if you can't speak you can text 911.

We invite you to use your social media platforms to share this important message. Finding individual and group support is crucial for victims to develop the strength required to leave the abusive situation and make a better life for themselves.

PHOENIX PUBLIC TRANSIT SERVICE REDUCTIONS BEGINNING MONDAY, MAY 4

Due to the continued impacts of COVID-19, the city of Phoenix Public Transit Department will reduce bus service beginning May 4. To see City of Phoenix Operated Routes visit, <https://www.phoenix.gov/newsroom/public-transit/1161>

The start of the service day will shift to:

- Monday - Friday 5 a.m.
- Saturday and Sunday 6 a.m.

The following service hours are temporarily eliminated:

- Monday - Thursday 11 p.m. to midnight
- Friday and Saturday 11 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The reductions allow transit resources to be focused on areas and routes with the highest needs and are being adjusted to reflect ridership trends. As we do so, it is important to note that we continue providing essential bus service to every community we serve. Our number one priority is the safety of our riders, drivers and our entire community. As such, we continue urging our riders to use public transit for essential trips only, and to plan extra time for trips as these changes may affect commute times. For more information on impacts to Public Transit services visit <https://www.phoenix.gov/newsroom/public-transit/1078>

The following COVID-19 preventative measures remain in place:

- Passenger limits on buses
- Social distancing of 6 feet or more between riders
- Passengers urged to use a mask or cloth face cover
- Rear door boarding and deboarding
- Driver's area separated with plexiglass
- Hand sanitizer on buses
- Contractors distributing PPE to drivers
- Visual-only fare inspection
- Enhanced vehicle cleaning

For more information on schedules visit valleymetro.org.

PHOENIX PARKS AND RECREATION

The Phoenix area has seen a swift increase in temperatures, with the century mark already being reached in April. As this seasonal weather shift is underway, the Phoenix Parks and Recreation and Phoenix Fire departments remind trail users to "Take a Hike. Do it Right." when enjoying the city's desert parks and mountain preserves.

During the warm weather months, Phoenix Park Rangers recommend hiking during the early morning or evening hours when it is cooler and there is more shade. Hydration is important when participating in any outdoor activity year-round, but is critical when the temperature heats up. Drink plenty of water before, during and after a hike. Hikers should also practice responsible social and physical distancing guidelines when on the trail. All trail users should follow these important and potentially life-saving hiking safety guidelines:

- Watch the Weather: Yes, "it's a dry heat" - but Arizona's temperature can be deceiving and deadly. Hike when it's cool outside, try early mornings and evenings when there's more shade.
- Dress Appropriately: Wear proper shoes, clothing, hat and sunscreen.
- Bring Water: Hydrate before you go. Have plenty of water, more than you think you need. Turn around and head back to the trailhead before you drink half of your water.
- Keep in Contact: Carry a mobile phone.
- Team Up: Hike with others. If hiking solo, tell someone your start and end times, and location.
- Be Honest: Do you have a medical condition? Asthma, heart problems, diabetes, knee or back problems? Don't push yourself! (Even trained athletes have been caught off guard by getting dehydrated on Arizona trails.)
- Don't Trailblaze: Enjoy the Sonoran Desert's beautiful and undeveloped landscape, but please stay on designated trails.
- Take Responsibility: Don't be "that person" - the one who wasn't prepared, shouldn't have been there for health reasons or ignored safety guidelines. Be the responsible hiker, who takes a hike and does it right!

For the safety of pets, dogs are prohibited on any City of Phoenix trail when the temperature is 100 degrees or warmer. The Arizona Humane Society advises that temperatures in the 90s are also unsafe for pets to be outdoors.

PHOENIX PARKS AND RECREATION: FIRE BAN IN DESERT PARKS & PRESERVES BEGINS MAY 1

The Phoenix Parks and Recreation Department will put into effect its annual ban of open fires in the city's desert parks and mountain preserves starting Friday, May 1.

In consultation with the Phoenix Fire Department, smoking and charcoal fires are included in the ban due to the extreme fire danger that the combination of low humidity, increased temperatures, excessive dry fuel from a wet winter, and frequent high winds create each spring.

The ban applies to Camelback Mountain, Deem Hills Recreation Area, Papago Park, Phoenix Mountains Park and Recreation Area, Phoenix Mountains Preserve, Phoenix Sonoran Preserve, North Mountain Park, Rio Salado Habitat Restoration Area, and South Mountain Park/Preserve.

The ban does not apply to the city's flatland parks.

For those using the desert parks and preserve land, the fire ban stipulates the following:

- Open, wood and charcoal fires are prohibited
- Propane or gas grills may be used, but only in established picnic areas
- Smoking outside enclosed vehicles continues to be prohibited

Motorists traveling through or near Phoenix's desert parks and mountain preserves should use extreme care with smoking materials and dispose of those only in their vehicle's ash tray.

To protect their homes, residents whose property borders the city's preserve land may remove dry shrubs, brush and grasses, and trim dead branches from trees within the 10-foot strip of land that borders their property. By creating this 10-foot "buffer zone" residents can help to protect their homes from potential brush fires in the adjacent preserve land.

Preserve neighbors also should check irrigation lines and pool back-flush hoses to ensure that water is not seeping into the preserve. Outside water sources encourage unnaturally dense vegetation growth, which increases fire risk.

For general information regarding removing vegetation, residents can contact a Phoenix Park Ranger at 602-495-5458 or natural.resources.pks@phoenix.gov. Detailed information about Phoenix's 41,000-plus acres of desert parks and mountain preserves, and 200-plus miles of trails, is available at Phoenix.gov/Parks.

As the temperature increases and humidity drops this time of year, those utilizing the city's desert parks and mountain preserves should use extra caution. Heat-related illness is common from May to October, and generally occur because the victim has been overexposed to heat or overexerted their body based on physical condition or age.

PHOENIX HUMAN SERVICES: HEAT RELIEF EFFORTS ADAPT AS COVID-19 RESTRICTIONS REMAIN IN PLACE

Record heat has arrived in Phoenix. Heat can be dangerous, and when temperatures are above 100 degrees, it is important for everyone to stay cool and stay hydrated. Coupled with the public health concerns brought on by the COVID-19 health emergency (coronavirus), staying informed about the resources available to be heat ready is essential.

Due to the coronavirus, many of the regional hydration stations and heat relief centers that would normally be in operation are not open, due to concerns about social distancing. Heat relief will be available at 12 Salvation Army centers across Maricopa County. The organization's emergency heat relief stations are available to anyone in need of assistance cooling down. Additionally, Phoenix's Human Services Department (HSD) will also continue purchasing water and distributing it to community-based providers that work with vulnerable populations like the homeless and seniors.

"With the early start to high temperatures, we want to make sure water is available to the communities that need it most. Due to the state's stay-at-home order, city buildings usually open to distribute water and provide cool spaces on hot days are still closed, so making sure the people working with those in need have the water to hand out is crucial," Tamyra Spendley, HSD's Deputy Director said.

Last year, the city distributed over 500,000 bottles of water. It is through donations of funds that the city purchases and hands out water. Given the already urgent need for water, the city has already purchased 26 pallets of water to distribute through 35 community-based organizations.

To make a tax-deductible cash donation for water please call 602-677-6055.
